

Pan-American Convo Will Feature Foreign Folk Songs, Dances

A colorful celebration of Pan-American Day will be offered by the three Foreign Language Clubs Monday morning. The convocation will be from 9:30 to 10:30. Classes will follow the regular shortened schedule.

The program will consist of the music and dances of Germany, France, Latin America and Brazil. Mrs. Ruth Oliveira-Scott and Miss Marcia Telles from Rio de Janeiro will sing the songs of Brazil. Mrs. Scott will play the guitar to accompany their songs. She will also give a short talk on the Pan-American celebration.

Dunlevy MC

The master of ceremonies for the convocation will be Jack Dunlevy. Irv Jones will direct the Community Singing and Honor Mae Thorson is in charge of stage arrangements.

As part of the Brazilian program, Dean Short will conduct the debut of his new Brazilian marionette, who will dance and "sing."

Students Will Learn Insurance "Ins, Outs"

Insurance will be the feature of next week's Vocations activities, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. All the meetings, movies and exhibits will be in room 209.

Tuesday's program will begin at 9:30 a. m. R. Wayne Wilson, faculty chairman of the activities, announced the speaker will be Robert Taylor. His topic will be "Life Insurance." A movie, "What Life Insurance Means to Me," will be shown at noon. Taylor is assistant vice-president of United Benefit Life Insurance Company.

Wednesday, Charles W. Goodwin, assistant secretary of Woodman of the World, will tell students of Home Office Operation. Goodwin will begin the second session at 10 a. m. The noon movie will be "Introducing the Policy Man" and "I Take Risks."

C. E. Heckenlively, vice-president of National American Insurance Co., will speak Thursday at 9 a. m. His topic will be "Underwriting." "Newsweek Looks at Life Insurance" will be shown at noon.

Glenn Lewis, Business Administration, is assisting Wilson on the faculty committee. On the student committee are Larry Barber, William Ryan, Stewart Khun, speakers; Edward Kozarek, Dale Buchanan, William Davis, room displays; Gary Anderson and Robert Wolfe, publicity.

Seven local and national insurance companies will have displays.

Radio Play Tryouts Open

Tryouts for "Case History of a Wedding" will be held Thursday and Friday in the Radio Lab. Bruce Linton, head of the speech department, announced that the tryout times will be posted on the bulletin board.

The play is the story of a disfigured girl who marries a blind war veteran. The story turns out "happily ever after."

"The play provides a swell opportunity for good female and male leads, and anyone can try out," said Linton. "So many of the students think it is a specialized field, requiring technical knowledge."

The play casts three women and three men.

Dick Palmquist will be the director.

"The Procurator of Judea" was broadcast over KFAB last Friday. KFAB will broadcast all of the OU radio plays. The "Adventure in Brownville" directed by Don Blocker is being tape recorded now. "Apartment 301" will be heard soon over KFAB.

OU4U featured the speech department over WOW-TV "Doors of Knowledge" Wednesday. The students presented a mock jury discussion of the Nebraska highway situation. WOW-TV program director Bill McBride said, "The Omaha University 'Doors of Knowledge' programs are the best local public service programs ever done on this station." Linton said, "The students are responsible for the success of the TV show. By their enthusiastic participation they have contributed much to the growth of OU."

There will be one more OU4U program presented over WOW-TV. The final broadcast will be Apr. 20.

Future Teachers! Complete Records

Students who are working toward a teaching certificate, must fill out the initial form, "Student Information Blank for Placement Records," as soon as possible. It will be a part of a permanent personnel record filed in the office of Dr. Frank Gorman, Dean of College of Education.

The 1953 Regional Educational Conference Convention will be held at OU tomorrow. Dr. Gorman said that teachers and administrators in the region will participate in the one-day meeting.

The theme of the conference is "How Can We Improve Education for Strengthening Democracy?" Citizenship education, moral and spiritual values will be discussed.

Latenser Submits First Student Union Plan; Committee Suggests Arrangement Change

Architect John Latenser submitted his first plans of Omaha University's proposed Student Union last week. The faculty and student committee studied the plans this week, giving the suggested changes to Latenser yesterday.

The plans were on display in the Business Office until Wednesday.

Latenser included all of the committee's suggestions in these first plans. In the basement, are nine bowling alleys, ping pong room, bookstore storage room and receiving room. On the first floor are the Student Publications, reading room, kitchen, snack bar, dining room, and office. The check room, alumni and faculty rooms, and six meeting rooms are on the

Players Stage Spring Production With Lenore Marx in Title Role

"Now as I was saying," is the word for the day. Cast members of the "Mad Woman of Chailot" rehearse a scene from the play. L. to R., Dick Smith, Gary Anderson, Jim Erixon, Pat Norman.

Burke, Goettsche Play Male Leads

The University Players will give their annual spring production tonight and tomorrow night in the auditorium. The play, "The Madwoman of Chailot," features Lenore Marx in the title role of Countess Aurelia.

Under the direction of Dr. Edwin Clark, the performances will begin at 8:15 p. m. both nights.

Two sets built by members of the Players will set the scene for the modern French satire by Jean Giroudoux. The first act takes place in the Cafe Terrace de Chez Francis; the second, in the Countess's home. Supporting roles to the Countess will be the Ragpicker played by Tom Burke, and Pierre played by Wayne Goettsche.

New York Costumes

Costuming for the play is unique in that costumes which are duplicates of those used in the original Broadway production have been rented from New York.

Richard Smith is assistant director while James Erixon is state manager.

Stage Helpers

Dancers Plan New Recital

Orchesis, modern dance club, will present its annual Spring Dance Concert next Saturday, in the University Auditorium. The program will begin at 8:15 p. m.

The program, entitled "Pulse," is the dynamic underlying "beats" of life in various sections of our country, portrayed in the dances. The sections include the West, city life, the South, and the finale will be "Manhattan Tower," the story of a month sojourn in New York.

The modern dancers participating in the production include Jo Olsen, Pat Vorel, Ruth Waschinek, Bonnie Coleman, Laura Dopita, Laya Edgar, Pat Kavan, Jane Engelhardt, Jean Janzan, Sue Yetter, Pat Cosford and Jean Madden.

All students may be admitted to the concert by exchanging their Student Activity card for tickets. All adults may purchase their tickets for $1.75 at the box office, and children under 12 years will be admitted for 25c.

Teaching Aids Loses Machine

The Bureau of Faculty Teaching Aids is offering a reward for the return of a Newcomb, 3-speed record player. It is a small tan player and was used last in room 305, Mar. 24. It is the only one of its kind in school and is owned by the University. The Teaching Aids personnel, looking for the machine, will appreciate information leading to its location.

All School Election Schedule Apr. 29

The Student Council has set Apr. 29 for the all-school election. Student Council representatives for the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes will be elected. Two girls and two boys will serve as Council members for each class.

Students will elect the Male Day Princess at this election. Any graduating senior woman is eligible for the honor.

Petitions for the Council posts and Male Day Princess should be taken out from the Dean of Students office and returned by 5 p. m. Wednesday, Apr. 22.

Girls Take Honors in "Grain" Contest

Two girls captured the Grain of Sand literary awards for the High School Contest. Margy Pentzien, Brownell Hall, won the poetry division with "The Sixth Day."

In the short story section, Marcia Ann Roberts, Central High, won with "Sunrise."

Both winners will receive a certificate for $25 toward tuition at the University. They also received framed certificates of achievement at their high school commencements.

Faculty Assist

Two University sports enthusiasts handled key roles this week in the National Volleyball tournament, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Vera Duerschner was director of the women's tournament, and Tom Brock was in charge of the collegiate section.

Cross Tops New ROTC Staff for April Inspection

With federal inspection just around the corner, the ROTC department is making ready for the annual affair. Cadet Colonel Roger Cross has been named to head the University cadet wing staff replacing Cadet Lt. Col. Jack Fraenkel.

Cross is preparing the wing for the inspection which will be held Apr. 27 and 28 on the Indian campus.

Cross has appointed Cadet Major James Wright as the new Wing Executive officer, relieving Cadet Captain Henry Bockman. Taking over the Air Adjutant General's post is Cadet Major Frank Schuchart.

Cadet Captain Bill Clark is announced as the new Inspector General, Cadet Captain Robert Biegel the new Director of Personnel and Cadet Major Glen Gowan as the new Director of Operations.

Cadet Major John Haury is the new Director of Drill Training, and Cadet Donald Nelson is taking over as the Testing Group Commander.

Others taking over new staff positions are Cadet Captain Burton McMillan, Deputy Director of Information; Cadet Captain Ronald Benson, Assistant Aid Adjutant General; Cadet Captain Franklin Sedlacek, Deputy Director of Projects; Cadet Captain James Sweetman, Deputy Director of Statistics and Cadet Captain James Carpenter, Deputy Director of Services.

Stolen Jet

The Air Force claims to be able to do things bigger and better. Sound basis for this claim occurred last week at the California Institute of Technology when a wingless F-84 jet plane used for study disappeared from the school.

With the FBI taking a dim view of the prank, school officials persuaded the G-men and the air force to let the students conduct their own investigation. The investigation uncovered the plane, but damages amounted to more than $1,000.

Humanities Students Star Get 'Painless Culture'

By Dick Belmont

Above the din and the discord of the Snack Shack symphony comes an occasional word that is audible above the rest. The jist of the conversation is not a heated argument over sports results, but the difference of opinion concerning the interpretation of a Greek play by Aristophanes.

The shack visitor did not by chance come upon a group of long-haired geniuses, or blunder into a faculty meeting, but ran into a few members of a Humanities class going over their latest reading assignments.

Painless Culture

These people are far from being long hairs. They are a group of average collegians who have found that culture can be painless. No genii from a bottle brought this about. The feat is accomplished through a lot of hard work and wise planning by Dr. Wilfred Payne, head of the Humanities department.

With 3,000 years of historical background provided by the first semester in dealing with the six views of life, the problem of enjoying the finer things of life today is made more interesting. Because of the wide scope of subject matter covered, no text book is used. However, library reading is assigned.

General Coverage

No attempt is made at detailed study of every phase, but rather each subject is presented as a whole, and is scanned for its principles, and its influence today. Typical of second semester subjects of the course is architectural style, the modern novel and the ballet.

Among the unique features of the class is the method of teaching from existing example, rather than book descriptions. To illustrate, architecture is taught by having the group observe Omaha buildings depicting architectural style. Dr. Payne's handbook on architectural style, containing lines drawings of style, photos of Omaha buildings of that style, and addresses of those buildings is the first of its kind.

Tutorial System

One of the features of the class is the system of tutorial appointments covering reading assignments. Rather than having students recite occasionally over some limited phase of the reading, each student meets once a week with his tutor, and recites what he has learned from the assigned reading.

The tutorial system has been observed with interest by other schools. The importance of such a course is illustrated by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which requires two years of liberal arts education before the specialized training in science is started.

TV Series

The Six Views of Life TV Classroom series presented by Dr. Payne has drawn the largest enrollment of any of the television courses.

The Humanities course was started in 1932 by Dr. Payne, and has followed the same line of study since its origin. And most students will agree, after completing the course, that it is well worth the time.

Letters To The Editor

There was a story concerning a proposed Student Union fee in a recent issue of the Gateway. This fee was suggested to be $5 per student per semester or about $10 from each student for two semesters of school. You asked for opinion. Here is ours.

It is our desire to see what we are paying for before we pay; that is, we want to see the plans, the site, and the proposed contract for the proposed Student Union before we pay our money. Don't get us wrong. We are not against a student union or a student union fee to pay for it; we just want to see the Student Union plans before the fee plan is accepted.

It is our opinion also that a separate fund should be set up for the money if this fee is ever assessed. We checked with Mr. Hoff and found that there is a student union fund all ready and it has accumulated over 66 thousand dollars already. This money has come from profits from the bookstore. Mr. Hoff assured us that if any fee plan was put into effect, all of the money would go into this fund. Once money is put into this fund it can not be spent for anything else without the consent of the Board of Regents. This fund is audited twice yearly along with the rest of the University's funds.

This fits into our thoughts on the matter of a yearly audit on the student union fund. All this means that the fee money, if collected, would go into a closed fund and would be spent only for a student union. The audits will allow the students and the citizens of Omaha to know how much money has been collected and how much more is needed before a real Union can be ours.

Star Theatre Actress

One might say Leonore Marx was "born in a trunk." Her parents were on the professional stage for a short time and Lee has been around the theater since she can remember. She witnessed her first play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," when she was four. Dressed in an oversized usher uniform, she passed out programs while "the show went on."

Madam Vice-President

Leonore might be billed as "Madame Vice-President." She has acted in the capacity for Waackya,

Leonore Marx

University Players, Future Teachers of America, and Alpha Phi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity. Her other school activities, outside the dramatic field, include Independents, The Club, and Pi Kappa Delta, honorary debate fraternity.

Lee, who started working in dramatics when she was twelve, "intends to keep it as her hobby." She has an impressive list of plays in which she has appeared. These include "Anything Goes," "Good-bye My Fancy," "John Loves Mary," "Audrey," "1951 Tom Tom Revue," "The Male Animal" and "The Corn Is Green." She acted as stage manager for "Ten Little Indians." Lee has also been active in Community Playhouse work.

A Teacher?

Leonore is a senior with a double major in Speech and English. She said she "plans to teach if the school board comes through with a job." Lee wouldn't admit to any professional stage aspirations.

Even with a dramatics teacher in the family, Lee has never had a private drama lesson. Her folks are sure she picked up most of her talent from her favorite childhood sport: hiding under the dining room table to watch her parents rehearse.

Star On Stage

Everyone will have a chance to see Lee's talent tonight and tomorrow night in "The Mad Woman of Chailot," OU's spring play. Lee plays the part of 'Countess Aurelia who sets about to rid the world of all evil. With such a veteran performer in charge, its bound to be one of the best University productions. . . . Pat.

On to Detroit . . .

Shrdlu Takes 'Big Race' . . .

Shrdlu, the temperamental turtle who refused to run trials, captured the coveted Press Club trophy at the Turtle Trudge Trot Trial last week.

Shrdlu covered the three foot distance in a snappy 59 seconds. The race was promoted by the Press Club as an elimination contest to choose the entry in the national Turtle Trudge contest at the University of Detroit on April 23.

A hypochondriac, Shrdlu has been in sick bay most of the time since his arrival at the University. His only competition was a sleek snapper, Slugline, a larger and more aggressive rival. Slugline offered only token competition. In fact, the turtle never budged from the starting post. As a result, he will probably end up in a soup, although many observers argued against such harsh punishment.

The beginning of the race brought about a few anxious moments. Shrdlu is blind in one eye and took off in the wrong direction. Repeated taps by "helpful" bettors failed to halt his determined plodding. However, at the last moment, Shrdlu changed course and crossed the finish line in a gallop.

Shrdlu's sponsor, Corinne Houser, was voted the "girl we'd most like to share a shell with" by the Press Club members. Corinne's picture has been entered as a candidate for "Queen of the Trudge contest" in Detroit.

Shrdlu's victory insures a one-way all-expense paid trip to the Motor City for the finals.

A pious lady who lived by herself was quite put out because her neighbors had not invited her to go with them on a picnic. On the morning of the outing, however, the picnicers relented and asked her to join them.

"It's too late," she snapped. "I've already prayed for rain."

Sgt. Hood Fails As Photographer

A trip to Lincoln, Nebraska, and a visit with Nebraska Governor Robert Crosby, has left bitter memories for Air Force instructor T/Sgt. Charles Hood.

Sergeant Hood and other Air Force, Arnold Air Society and Angel dignitaries made a special trip to the statehouse to personally invite the governor to OU's Military Ball. Hood went along as photographer to take pictures of the whole publicity stunt.

Everything went off smoothly in Lincoln, with the Angels and Air Force Majors all posing for pictures with the governor. In fact, the whole affair went smoothly or everyone except Sergeant Hood.

When he got back to school, Hood found that none of the pictures developed well enough for printing. It's the saddest story the Gateway has heard for a long time.

OU Baseballers Defeat Simpson

OU baseballers opened the '53 season with a 7-1 win over Simpson College at Indianola Ia. last Tuesday.

The win was highlighted by the five-hit pitching job done by big Bob Offerjost and Dick Davis. Offerjost worked seven innings and Davis hurled the last two. They yielded four hits and one hit respectively.

Don Hansen, who opened at third base this year, was the Indian offensive leader as he batted out two singles and a double in four times at bat.

Don Maseman's two-run double was the most damaging blow of the two Simpson choppers.

Two errors and a hit loaded the bases for Simpson in the first inning with one out, but a double-play, Maseman-Redden-Nelson erased the threat.

Simpson threatened again in the second inning but another double play by the same trio stopped the Iowans.

In the third, the OU nine parlayed three hits, a walk and an error into four runs to jump into the lead.

A walk to John Wiren, two stolen bases and Hansen's double pushed across another run in the sixth.

OU collected their last two runs in the seventh when Bill Duffack doubled and Don Claussen and Wiren contributed singles.

The Yelkin-tutored nine showed that they have the ability to be a hitting ball club as they pounded out 12 hits off the two Simpson moundsmen.

OU Nine Travels To Morningside

Today the University of Omaha's baseball team will journey to Sioux City for a game with Morningside College. Last year the Indians took two games from the Maroons.

Around seventeen men will make the trip. The probable starters will be Don Hansen at third, Don Maseman shortstop, Bugs Redden second base and Lee Nelson first base. The outfielders will be Aksel Schmidt, Bill Duffack and Don Claussen.

A hot battle is still being staged at third base between Fritz Buglewicz, Don Hansen and Bill Steck. The outfielders are also in a battle for starting positions. The three starters, Schmidt, Claussen and Duffack, are being pressed by Bob Schroop and Dave Langevin, former North High ace, out at the present time with a hand injury. Dave promises to be one of the hardest hitters on the squad, and he could move into a starting spot in the outfield.

Coach Virgil Yelkin was pleased with the way the team looked against Simpson, and the outlook for the season appears to be bright.

Bowling Begins

Men's intramural bowling resumed yesterday after a week layoff due to Spring vacation.

Games will continue until sometime early in May.

Service Meet Attracts Stars

The Sampson Air Force Base Sabres of Geneva, N. Y., is the only positive entry in the Armed Forces Basketball Tournament which will be held in the Omaha University Fieldhouse on Apr. 17 and 18. The team compiled a 42-5 record this year; it avenged four of the losses in return games.

John (Sonny) Allen is the star of Sampson. He averaged 17.4 points per game and is an outstanding playmaker.

Representatives from the Army, Navy and Marines have not been determined yet. The Army champion will play the Navy ruler, and the Marine elimination victors meet Sampson.

The two winners meet in the second game on Apr. 18 for the title. The losers play the consolation game preceding the final tilt.

Several famous ex-college players may be members of the other three teams in the tourney. Such stars as Paul Unruh of Bradley, Dick Schittker of Ohio State, Paul Arizin of Arizona, and Dick Groat of Duke and of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Baseball League are on teams that are still in contention for entrance to the tourney.

Indian Golf Team Opposes Midland

Midland College's golf team opposes the Omaha team today in the Indians' opening match at the Happy Hollow course. It is the first of 18 scheduled matches this year.

Tomorrow, the team travels to Lincoln to play Nebraska. The meet begins at 9 a. m. on the Hillcrest Course.

Four men have clinched berths on the squad. They are Jerry Norene, Fred Shinrock, Dean Wilson and Arch Templeton. Don Fitch and Bill Campbell may be added to the team.

Officer "3" Returns...

Warning to OU motorists! Officer "3" has returned to the parking lot scene to once again haunt drivers.

As a word to the wise, students should be especially cautious to park between the white lines, and not stay in a 30 minute zone for 40 minutes.

South Dakota Host To OU Track Team

Golf, Tennis, Softball Head Mural Activity

Golf, tennis and softball will take the limelight in intramural activity for the next two months. Athletic Director Ernie Gorr has set up schedules on the Fieldhouse bulletin boards, and he stated that he did not want the sports dragged out. All teams not showing up on scheduled time will lose by forfeit.

By Apr. 24, the first round of intramural golf should be completed. All matches will be 18 holes, and they must be played at Elmwood Park. The intramural department will furnish clubs, but all contestants must furnish their own balls and fees for the course.

On Apr. 22 all of the singles competition in tennis must be completed. And by Apr. 24 the doubles must be finished.

Six teams have entered the softball competition. The schedule has been posted, and games will start Monday. The games are being held at Elmwood. They must start at 2 p. m. and finish by 3:30. They are playing a round robin schedule.

Gorr also stated that all table tennis matches should be finished by Apr. 18. If the matches are not completed the tournament will be declared a forfeit.

OU vs. Midland In Tennis Opener

The Omaha University tennis squad opens its season at 1 p. m. today at Dewey Court against Midland College of Fremont. Five singles and two doubles matches compose the opener.

Tomorrow, the team goes to Lincoln to face the Nebraska University team. The Saturday match begins at 11 a. m. The Cornhuskers recently lost all three matches on a southern road jaunt.

Tom Burke, Dale Womer, Don Blocker, Brendon Gallagher and Carl Carlson are the five team members.

Omaha University has been invited to attend the South Dakota University Relays at the South Dakota track today.

Ten to twelve schools are expected to participate, including such teams as Wayne State Teachers College, Augustana and Yankton.

Coach Ernie Gorr has 20 boys entered and he thinks that "we'll get our share of points". He said "The good athletes from the smaller colleges will make it hard for any one team to monopolize."

Bill Barnes will be trying to avenge an earlier defeat over Groulick of Wayne. In their last meeting, Barnes was edged by the Wayne hurdler in the Indian Indoor Fieldhouse meet.

The only record holder from the Omaha squad that is returning is Joe Nalty. The veteran sprinter holds the record in the 100 yard dash at 10 flat. Another strong place for Omaha should come in the mile relay team composed of Bob Gerdeman, Bernie Lainsen, Wayne Larsen and Bob Barnes.

Chi Omega Defeats Unaffiliated in Final

Chi Omega defeated Unaffiliated in two games in the finals of the Omaha University Women's Intramural basketball tournament. Chi Omega won with scores of 27 to 11 and 21 to 17. This is the fourth year that Chi Omega has made the finals of the tournament.

Marilyn Rathke won first place in the OUWI archery tournament. Pat King took second place. Helen Howell was third.

Tomorrow OUWI will sponsor the annual high school Play Day at the University of Omaha. Louann Focht, chairman of the plans for the day, urges all OUWI members to attend the Play Day.

Eight high schools in Omaha and Council Bluffs have been invited to attend the Play Day. They are Benson, North, Central, Tech, West Side, South, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

Cindermen Score 82 Points To Win First Outdoor Meet

Omaha University trackmen won their first outdoor meet of the season Apr. 1 by winning over Midland and Dana. The score of the afternoon triangular held on the Indian track was Omaha 82, Midland 53 and Dana 37.

Outdoor track records in the pole vault, two mile run and low hurdles were broken. Duane Robinson of Midland wasn't pressed by anyone as he cleared 12 ft. 5 1/2 in. in the pole vault while Mel Decker ran the two mile in 10:55 and freshmen Bill Barnes continued his winning ways by copping the 220 yard low hurdles in :26.1.

Bill also won the 120 yd. lows while his twin brother, Bob, placed third in the event and gave the surprise of the day in winning the 220 yd. dash. It was the first time Bob tried the 220 and he came from behind in the straight away to win over second and third place Gentzler of Midland and Jerry Tannahill of Omaha.

Indians Win 880

The Indian 880 relay team lost its second straight race to the Midland crew. Joe Nalty took the baton for the last 220 with over 15 yards separating him from the Midland runner. He came within a yard or two from closing the gap as they hit the tape.

Another close race was the 440 yd. dash. Wayne Larsen won handily, but more important, Bob Gerdeman, Indian Quarter man and hurdler, came within a yard of upsetting Larsen. Another rivalry is apparent between these two to take the place of the Indoor season feud of Larsen and Lainsen in the 440.

Lainsen Holds Second

Bernie Lainsen has given up the quarter in favor of the half and mile where he holds both records. Lainsen won the 880 yd. run and was the anchor man on the victorious mile-relay quartette.

Marion Hudson of Dana put on the finest one-man show of the day. The versatile athlete placed first in the javelin, second in the broadjump, tied for first in the high jump, second in the 100 yard dash and fourth in the shot put. This gave him an individual point total of 17 points, almost half of his team's accumulated score.

OU Takes Shotgun

Omaha copped the first three places in the shotgun. Big Larry Johnson won the event with a toss of 42 feet, two inches and he was followed by Dale Geise and Jerry Wetzel.

Jim Dubois switched from the student manager role to that of a participating athlete as he placed third in the javelin with 146 feet, five inches. It was Jim's first attempt at the sport.
